Caldecott Award-winning illustrator visits Arrowhead School
On April 20, the students at Arrowhead School in Pray got a surprise visit from illustrator E. B. Lewis, winner of both the Caldecott Medal and the Coretta Scott King Award. Lewis has illustrated more than 75 children's books. Students at Arrowhead were introduced to his work by artist-in-residence Emily Nell Yellow Bird, who met him at a conference in New York City last year, and invited him to Montana. Lewis spent time in Arrowhead classrooms, where he delivered an inspiring message to students, and was also the special guest at a dinner and book-signing for the community. He even got to do a little fly fishing!
